Maggie Beer Products

Inspired by Australia's abundance of fresh produce, Maggie Beer Products bases its reputation on Maggie Beer's own philosophy of using superior ingredients, in season, to produce gourmet products of the highest quality. Maggie's Verjuice, fruit pastes, pates, sauces, jams, oils, vinegars, preserves, crackers and ice creams allow gourmet to be part of every day.

The Maggie Beer brand identity is well established in the gourmet food industry, intrinsically linked to the reputation, history and ongoing activities of Maggie, the person. A long history as a Barossa Valley restaurateur, together with regular television and other media appearances, the Maggie Beer brand continues to grow in market recognition throughout Australia.

Over the last 20 years Maggie Beer Products has grown from just a handful of staff to now being one of the Barossa Valley's largest employers with more than 50 employees based out of its production facilities in Tanunda, South Australia. Maggie Beer Products' commitment to innovation and continual improvement is reinforced by our ongoing investment into best practice production facilities and cutting edge cooking and processing equipment. Maggie Beer Products is proud to be able to promote Maggie Beer's food philosophy to more Australians and beyond.

Pasta, Sauce & Sugo

Tomato & Basil Sugo

Sugo is a traditional Italian style, slow-cooked sauce for stirring through pasta, adding to hearty soups, or spooning over pizza bases. Slow-cooked vine-ripened tomatoes are melted down with onions, garlic and the freshness of basil for a truly traditional, dense sauce. Warm sugo and toss through good quality pasta for a great meal in 15 minutes. Add Verjuice to the sugo to make a broth for cooking mussels, or as a sauce for poached or grilled salmon.
